Bostons Scare the Champions by Fast Play Pittsburgs Win, Too, From the Cincinnatie Philadelphias Have an Easy Time With the Tail-Enders-Chicago and St. Louis Draw. Again the champion Brooklyns won from the Bostons yesterday in another clean-cut game. Hanlon's men thereby maintained a ead of 24 points over the Pittsburgs, who, after suffering two consecutive defeats, finally defeated the Cincinnatis with ease. From present indications it will be a neck-and-neck odds slightly in favor of the Champions, who, with a braced-up pitching corps, are playing real championship ball. The Philadelphias had a cinch with the New York tail-enders, who once more failed to take advantage of the Reds' defeat. The Chicagos and St. Louis played draw. The results: Brooklyn, 5; Boston, 3.

BROOKLYN, 5; BOSTON, S. In what was perhaps the best played game of the season at Washington Park, the Brooklyns again vanquished the Bostons yesterday afternoon. Barring two growls by Herman Long at the umpire, there was no kicking man Long at the umpire, there was no kicking and no delay. Magnificent plays of the most sensational order prevailed and as the result was in doubt up to the last moment, the crowd of 2,000 cranks relished the sport immensely. Though the Bostons were beaten, they made the Champions work like beavers to secure a victory in which Eugene DeMontreville and "Roaring Bill" Kennedy were conspicuous factors. Kennedy not only pitched with steadiness and effect, but he started a finitful rally in the fifth inning with a three-bagger. It was DeMontreville's lightning base hit in the eighth that really won the game, while a superb catch by him in the ninth spoiled a possible two-base hit. Sheckard, too, was in evidence with his bat, his single in the fifth doing great execution.

It was from Sheckard's bat, by the way, that Billy Hamilton made one of the greatest circus catches ever seen in Brooklyn, or anywhere else for that matter. With one out and Keeler on first base in the third inning Sheckard got in a tremendous whack to right centre. It was a drive that looked good for a home run and both "Sheck" and Keeler began to leg it around the bases. Hamilton got his plane legs moving right away and seemed to be in for a chase. Just as the ball was sadling over his head, he stuck up his left hand, which was bare, and made a desperate grab at the sphere. He just managed to reach it while jumping several feet in the air, and it stuck, too. Hamilton was as much surprised as anybody, but he made a quick throw to Lowe. Keeler was rounding third at the time, so the Bostons had a chance to fatten their fielding averages when Lowe tossed the ball to Long. The latter threw it to Pittenger and he sent it to Tenney for the out, a double play being made therefore by five men.

Other startling plays were made by Collins.

fore by five men.
Other startling plays were made by Collins,
Pittenger was almost as much of a puzzle as Kennedy, except that he became unsteady at a critical juncture and his wildness was almost directly responsible for the defeat of his companions.

Hamilton scored the first run of the game in the third inning on his base on balls and Long's three-bagger with nobody out. Right there Kennedy showed that he was not ready to get the state of the sta Kennedy showed that he was not ready to get into the balloon, though he was helped a great deal by a rattling play on the part of Kelley, who knocked down Tenney's smash and caught Long at the plate. In the fifth, with one out, Stahl singled and scored another Boston run on Tenney's two-bagger to right. The latter ran home on Collins's single to left, but Collins could not reach second. Up to that point the Champions had made but one hit off Pittenger and with the score's to 0 against them the crowd could not reach second. Up to that point the Champions had made but one hit off Pittenger and with the score 3 to 0 against them the crowd began to expec defeat.

Two were out in the last half of this inning when there was an explosion that delighted the rooters. Kennedy hit for three bases and scored Brooklyn's first run on Jones's single. The latter raced to third on Keeler's two-bagger to left, and both counted on Sheckard's corking base hit to centre. With the score tied, Kennedy redoubled his efforts, with the result that in the last four innings the Bostons got but one man to first base.

The Champions won out in the Eighth. Sheckard was hit by a pitched ball and stole second, but in sliding he went over the bag and was nalled. Then Pittenger gave bases on balls to Kelley, Cross and Dahlen. It was up to De Montreville, who, after playing the game to the limit, lined a beautiful single to centre on which Kelley and Cross ran home. The score:

PHILADELPHIA, 7; NEW YORK, 3.

PHILADELPHIA. 7; NEW YORK, 8.

The Philadelphians turned the tables on the New Yorks at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon and won an interesting game. The Quakers won because they were able to hit the ball when hits were most needed, while the New Yorks were unable to do anything with Orth. The deaf and dumb pitcher was trotted out to hold down the heavy-hitting Philadelphias, but he was batted out of the box in the third inning. Carrick, who took his place, was unable to hold the Quakers in check and they made nine hits off him, four of which came in the sixth inning. The score: PHILADELPHIA. NEW YORK.

PHILADELPHIA CLUB SCORED. Abell Says Somebody Should Be Censured by the National League. The recent exposure of the Philadelphia club's sharp practice in having a player tip off the opposing team's signs, has stirred up s tempest in League circles. Manager Shetteline of the Philadelphias has admitted the truth of Manager Hanlon's charges and has no excuses to offer. F. A. Abell, one of the owners of the Brooklyn club made a few remarks yes terday to THE SUN man which would seem to indicate that Col. John I. Rogers of the Philadelphia Club will be compelled to orate at unusual length at the meeting of the League next "Having learned that the charges of fraud

"Having learned that the charges of fraud lodged by Hanlon against the Philadelphia club are true," said Abell, "I wish to say that such tactics are a diagrace to professional baseball, which has always been looked upon as an honest sport. The Philadelphia club has been caught red-handed. It has been paying one of its players a salary for two years to watch the signs of opponents by means of glasses used in a house back of the centre-field fence and has thereby profited in the most remarkable manner.

"The Philadelphias have fattened their batting averages and have won many games at home because of this unfair trick and I should like to know whether the League thinks that these players should rank in the official averages this year. Is it fair to allow the Philadelphias to have any official place in the record? It would seem not. In any sport cheating cannot be overlooked. The Philadelphia club has been placed in a bad light and its offence has admilistered to baseball a black eye that wil not disappear for some time to come.

"The League should take some action in this

"The League should take some action in this matter and somebody should be severely censured. Can it be possible that John I. Rogers, the principal owner of the Philadelphia club,
who has always proclaimed himself to be a true sportsman, has known of this business? I am surprised that other clubs have not discovered the trick before this. We knew of it some time ago, but we did not expose it until we had absolute proof of it."

John I Rogers has not yet been heard from.

BALL PLAYERS AS DICTATORS. League Manager Says the Protective Association Will Work Harm. Several League managers are complaining that they have already felt the influence of the Protective Association of Professional Baseball Players. They say that since the new organization was perfected the players have been acting with more independence than ever before. A manager, who does not care to have his name used just at present, said to The Sun man the other day:

"Several of my players have practically defied me of late. One of them took two days off and when I asked him where he had been he simply said: 'Been to the races.' Another one after failing to show up in the afternoon replied when asked for an explanation: 'Didn't have time to come!' It was also intimated that in case any fines were inflicted I would hear from the Protective Association. It looks to me as if several players I know of have lost their heads. They seem to think they can boss things to suit themselves."

The magnates, incidentally, have discussed the recent notice sent to them by the attorney of the Protective Association, asking for a conference. Most of them say they are willing to listen to the demands of the players, but it is the general opinion among them that no concessions of any kind should be made. The magnates feel that the players are getting all that they are entitled to and that the organization of the Protective Association was not a necessity. In a word, the magnates believe that it will be prudent to call the players' bluff, as they term it, and see how far the Protective Association will go. care to have his name used just at present, said to THE SUN man the other day:

Practice of the Big Elevens-Ready for the Opening of the Season.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Harvard's football so well this week, was again brought out. This time the elevens were lined up for fifteen and twelve-minute periods, and in that time the 'Varsity could score but once. This touch-down was due, as was the one on Wednesday, to end runs. For the second time the 'Varsity suffered the humiliation of being held for downs, an event that happens but few times downs, an event that happens but few times in a season. The 'Varsity was unable to make any consistent gains at centre, largely owing to the activity of Roberts, the big freshman. He also made holes, so that the third eleven repeatedly forced the 'Varsity line for long gains. Throughout the practice gaine, the 'Varsity backs fumbled punts, mixed their signals, started slowly and failed utterly to block holes. Kernan was put on the 'Varsity behind the line in place of Stillman, who was playing very poorly. Kernan made one high long punt, but it got away so slowly that Roberts almost blocked the ball. For the third eleven, in addition to the good playing of Roberts, Hersey tackled Kendall for a loss of seven yards, and Littig made several hard tackles behind the 'Varsity line. Considerable uneasiness is felt over the outcome of to-morrow's game with Wesleyan. The coaches hope that the training Coach Lewis has given the men in defence will enable them to keep Wesleyan from scoring. Harvard simply hopes to get over the game without the disgrace of being scored against. Just how serious the situation really is can be seen from the fact that the coaches put the whole squad back to the preliminary work of falling on the ball, tackling the dummy, catching punts, &c., this afternoon. To spend most of the afternoon doing such elementary work when the season is two weeks oid is something most unusual. in a season. The 'Varsity was unable to make most of the afternoon doing such elementary work when the season is two weeks old is something most unusual.

Yesterday afternoon the candidates for the New York University football team commenced scrimmage work for the first time this year. Nearly thirty men were on the field. Marsten, the crack guard of the Centenary Collegiate Institute of Hackettstown, reported for work and made a good impression. Among the new freshmen out were: Tuthill from Flushing High School, who was tried at full back and punted well: Freiberg, centre; Walz and Lippincott, ends, of New York High School; Clarke, of Westerleigh Collegiate Institute, and Morrison of Dwight School. Of the upper classmen who were playing for the first time at N. Y. U., were Lane, 1903. of Trinity School; Weinberger 1902, and Young, 1903. Bergman, the tackle of the '98 team, who is back at college, was tried in the line with Brennan of Manhattan College. On Monday the practice will commence on Ohio Field. If the authorities are willing, and the tackling dummy will be put in place. During the coming week the coaching force will consist of Hatch, '98. 'Pop' Foster, ex-1900; Garvin.'97; Eva£i.'98: Young, '92, and Jones, 1902. The latter will not play this year as he is in training for irack athletics. Manager Gould announces a game with Syracuse University for Oct. 13. Oct. 20 is open owing to a cancellation. The first game will be played on next Saturday, when the team will line up against the alumni.

PRINCETON, Sept. 28.—It took the Tigers to-day only three minutes, in their practice on Osborn Field to push the strongest "scrub" that could be picked about seventy yards down the gridiron for the first touchdown of the season. The entire distance was covered by plain, straightaway football, but of the hardest and fastest order that has been seen here this fall. De Witt, the freshman guard, who had two fingers put out of joint yesterday, will not be able to play for a sephomore. Henry, from the St. Paul's School, played at half and was usually able to gain his captain of the "scrubs."

ITHACA, Sept 28.—Cornell meets Syracuse on the gridiron to-morrow and it is feared here to-night by the student body that the eleven from the Salt (ity will prove as much of a surprise as Lafayettes did last year. Syracuse is coached by Ed Sweetland, who played on Cornell's team for three years and who was elected to the football captaincy in his senior year but was turned down by the athletic council. When Sweetland was chosen coach of Syracuse this year he thought he had a chance to get even. Accordingly, he got the candidates out very early and they have been working hard ever since with this end in view. Fortunately for the Ithacans, however, he will meet a team which has had hard work and which should at this time of the year stand a good chance with any team in the country. To-night the 'Varsity were lined up against fourteen scrubs and mowed down their oppon-ents like grass at every play. Otis, Morrison and Coffin were playing in the back field and they plunged through the line for five yards at every signal. In the short half played the 'Varsity scored twice and easily held the scrubs when on defence. The 'Varsity was made up as follows'

Schoolings. Schoolkopf was kept out of the game because of a minor injury and Taussig also was a triffe indisposed.

The Words School football team won its first game of the scason by defeating Manhattan School at Westchester yesterday afternoon by a score of 32 to 18.

New Haven, Sept. 28.—Fifty freshmen reported for football practice at Yale this afternoon. The squad is the biggest in years. There are a lot of big men in the squad and it looks as though a good freshman team could be developed out of this bunch of material. The 'Varsity coaches will watch the freshmen closely and from day to day call out the best players from the squad for a trial on the 'Varsity. Dicky Sheldon had his first trial this afternoon in the 'Varsity rush line. He was played at right guard in place of Goss, who is laid up. Sheldon made a very fair showing. He is not yet in good football condition. The coaching list was swelled this afternoon by the arrival of Morris Ely, quarter on the team of two years ago. Olcott was again at centre rush on the 'Varsity. The practice was hard, as usual, but it did not last long. When the third and fourth elevens lined up Bob Keane was again put at quarter. In one of the first scrimmages Keane injured his ankle so badly that he will not be able to play for a week or more. In the opening game of the season with Trinity to-morrow the make-up of the 'Varsity will be the same as it was this afternoon, as follows:

It was learned to-night that the Yale faculty has as good as vetoed the proposition to have the Yale-Princeton championship game played in New York this fall. It has teen suggested by Yale graduates that in case Princeton's field is not ready by the time of the game, that Yale offer her field for the game.

not ready by the time of the game, that Yale offer her field for the game.

A decided let-up in the severity of football practice at Columbia was noticeable yesterday, and though the play in the usual scrub game was fast there were frequent periods of rest and but a single half was played. The main work was an attempt to pick out the best men for the end positions and to this end Coach Sanford tried the entire squad in getting down the field on punts with the result that McCollom and Ache played ends in the afternoon game. McCollum is quick and energetic, but lacks weight, while Ache failed to take advantage of opportunities. Two new men, Pell and Green, were seen on the college team which was in charge of Capt. Simons. The Varsity was weakened by the absence of Weekes, Wright and Yan Hoevenberg, who were laid off for a day, and as a consequence no touchdowns were made. The kicking of Full Back Ashley was again the feature of the day's work. Twice he put the ball straight over the scrub line, though his deliberate system of kicking seemed to portend blocked attempts in both instances. Tyson resumed his place at right guard and Goodman and Bovesen filled the positions of Van Hoevenberg and Weekes at quarter back and left half back, respectively. Austin had his eye slightly cut during the play. The practice was concluded by a race between all the candidates for the full length of the gridiron. Austin won. Excapt. Bert Wilson and Putnam, last year's end, watched the work of the men. The line-up, which is supposed to be that in which Columbia will meet Rutgers next Wednesday with the addition of Weekes and Wright, was as follows: Right end. Ache: right tackle, Burchell; right guard, Tyson, centre, Murphy, left guard, Bruce: left tackle, Austin: left end, McCollom; quarter back, Goodman: right half back, Holman; left half back, Boyesen; full back, Ashley.

Ernie Hjertberg, one of the trainers of the eleven, will resign.

PHILADELPHIA. Sept. 28.—Pennsylvania play her first game of the season with Lehigh at Franklin Field to-morrow. The Quaker line-up has been a matter of conjecture, and it was not until late this afternoon that Woodruff an-nounced the line-up as follows: nounced the line-up as follows:

To the surprise of Coach Woodruff and Capt, Hare, Potter appeared on the field to-day eager for the game. He has just returned from the West. He is thus in good condition and weighs its pounds, six pounds more than last season. After the signal and formation practice to-day the Varsity faced the scrub for a twenty-minute game. But one score was made, as Coach Woodruff called for place drop kicks as soon as the Varsity had worked the ball down near the scrubs' goal. Hare barely missed two goals from placement from the twenty-five and thirty-five yard lines, and he kicked a beauty from the five yard lines, and he kicked a beauty from the forty-five yard line.

ANNAPOLIS, Sept. 28.—Coach Garret Cochra ANNAPOLIS. Sept. 20. Coach arrived to take harge of the Naval Academy football team in he games to be played this season. Most of the cademy players have returned. Reginald T. arpenter of New Hampshire, who has just been dmitted as a cadet, will be on the team. He is it feet tall.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Harvard's freshman fortball candidates assembled in the trophy room of Hemenway Gymnasium to-night. Head Coach Dibblee, Capt. Daly and Trainer J. I. Knox addressed them briefly on the duties of training. One hundred and forty-three freshmen handed in their names as candidates for the team.

George Stallings of the Detroit club is in town. It is said that he has a gripful of money for Catcher Jack Ryan, who says the club owes him $500.

President N. E. Young has sent to The Sun a list of players reserved by the minor leagues for next season. The American, Eastern, Interstate. Western, New York State Virginia and Connecticut State are the leagues included.

Edward B. Talcott, formerly the leading spirit in the New York club, is now a resident of Rochester. During the past season he has been an ardent supporter of the Eastern League team representing that city. At the close of the race the players of the Rochester team presented Talcott with a fine gold headed umbrella, and they got "Judge" Cullom, the well known rooter, to make the presentation speech. Talcott was completely taken by surprise, and said in reply that it was the first present he had ever received from those who perform on the diamond.

ELIZABETH M. WINS AGAIN.

W. C. WHITNEY BUYS HER AT A FANCY PRICE TO RACE IN ENGLAND. Extra Card at Gravesend Furnishes Lively Sport-Monroe Doctrine Takes the Hurdle

Race on Two Sound Legs-King Barleycorn Loses a Bace by Sulking-Entries To-Day. The extra afternoon's racing which marked he beginning of the end at Gravesend at tracted a large crowd to the Brooklyn Jockey Club's track yesterday. The early morning rain had deadened the going somewhat, but improved as the afternoon wore on and fair fields turned out. Monroe Doctrine furnished a surprise the hurdle handicap, with which the sport led off. The race was figured as a gift for the Hitchcock pair, Mazo and Last Chord, and they closed favorites at 6 to 5, after opening at even money. Monroe Doctrine was played down a point from his original odds of 4 to 1. and he landed the money, after a desperate struggle, by a head from Mazo. The winner broke down almost hopelessly at the turn for his front tendons so badly bowed that he will hardly be seen out again this season. Elizabeth M. scared all but Scurry and the Puritan out of the Boulevard Handicap, and the trio finished as named, with the odds-on-favorite an easy winner. She was subsequently pur-chased by W. C. Whitney for a price said to be $20,000, and will be shipped to England. Eliza-berh M. is one of the fastest fillies seen out this season, and she races like a youngster that will keep on improving.

Dolando had a slight call over King Barley-season, and she races like a youngster that will keep on improving.

Dolando had a slight call over King Barleycorn in the third race, but was somewhat lucky to win by a head, as, after sulking most of the way, King Barleycorn cut loose in the stretch and would have won in another jump. Tater was played confidently at even money in a field of nine maiden three-year-olds, and after making all the running won cleverly by a length from Templar.

The most interesting event of the day was the Bayview Handleap, for all ages, at one mile and a sixteenth. At a first glance Mr. Brown looked the best at the weights, but a steady play on Intrusive sent the pair to the post equal favorites at 2 to i. Meanwhile Motley was not overlooked by her immediate following and with a strong rider up she might have won. She tipted the lot to the last pole where Odom got up with Favonius and won by three parts of a length. Intrusive had no speed at any stage and wound up a poor third.

Although only five horses paraded for the two-year-old selling race, last on the card, the talent falled to pick the winner. Glade Run and Quite Right closed equal choices at 3 to 1, while Billionaire found supporters at 7 to 2. Shark at 6 to 1 upset all calculations by taking the track soon after flag fall and winning easily by a length and a half. O'Connor brought Billionaire up from last place to second in the drive and snatched the place by a head from Quite Right. Summary:

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The slaughter of favorites continues at liawthorne. To-day the only first choice to win was Walkenshaw, who was backed into favoritism at post time, and his victory must have hit the books hard. This was the last race of the day. In the five preceding events the favorites were bowled over with monotonous regularity and in the first three races did not finish inside the money. Summary:

Fair distinguished yesterday's programme. Jack Feek, the veteran reinsman, who has about deserted the trotters and gone over to the heavy harness horses, said that he never saw a better lot of animals shown in the ring, and that in his judgment a higher class would not be seen at the National Horse Show. Trotters in harness began yesterday's proceedings. There were only four entries. Highland Baron, the handsome bay stallion, got the blue ribbon, and Park

Jockeys Mitchell and Bullman Reinstated. A meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club was held yesterday morning. August Belmont, J. H. Bradford, James Galway, F. R. Hitchcock, James R. Keene and Andrew R. Hitchcock, James R. Keene and Andrew Miller were present. Jockey J. C. Mitchell was restored to good standing and it was ordered that the suspension of Jockey John Bullman be not continued after the Brooklyn Jockey Club meeting. The secretary was authorized to issue a license to Trainer Edward Heffner, Jockey John Sullivan, who was disqualified through riging at unrecognized courses, was reinstated to all privileges. Licenses were granted to Jockeys J. Hoar, Michael, and J. Miles and to Trainer A. C. Franklin, J. B. Respers and M. Sheedy.

Winning Horses at Mineola.

MINEGLA, Sept. 28.—The attendance at the Mineola fair to-day looked small in comparison to yesterday, but over 15.000 persons were on hand to witness the four light hatness events carded. B. Moore, Jr. 3. Gladys had no trouble in winning the three year-old event. The gentlemen's road race created considerable excitement during the first heat. When coming down the stretch Redington Prince put his foot through Lottic's sulky wheel, with the result that Howard Hutcheson, the mare's driver, was thrown out and Lottic came to the wire on a run. The judges placed Lottic fourth and Redington Prince fifth in the heat. Hutcheson was not hurt. Summaries:

HORSE SHOW AT TUXEDO. Prince Lorillard, Jr., Wins Two First Prince

and Is Second Once. TUXEDO PARK, Sept. 28.-All Tuxedo

ociety turned out to-day to attend the first annual horse show, which was held on the polo field. The onlookers arrived in fourin-hands, coaches, brakes and fancy runabouts. The day was ideal, just right for horses. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., was one of the first to arrive with his four-in-hand, on which were Mrs. P. Lorillard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tuckerman. Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer, with Miss Fift Potter as guest, were in a fancy runabout. Others in traps were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Vechten Olcott, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Poor, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown Lord, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henning and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Fish.

There were only four classes shown. Pierre Lorillard, Jr's., horses won two first prizes and one second. To morrow will be the best day, when all classes will be shown in the morning and afternoon. Dr. Frank C. Grensico of New York and C. S. Patterson of Tuxedo acted as judges to-day. Alves Beats Harum on the Speedway.

Several thousand persons lined the sidewalks along the Speedway yesterday afternoon to see Nathan Straus's bay gelding Alves, 2:095, and Col. Taylor's David Harum, brush for charity. The match was made last Sundey, the loser to pay $200 to the fund for the Galveston sufferers. They were to trot three halfmile heats. In the first heat David Harum made a costly mistake directly after the start and was beaten by almost a block. Alves went to a break in the second heat and spoiled what promised to be an exciting brush, but he was beaten out by only a length.

The third heat furnished the closest and most interesting brush of the series. Alves made a slight mistake but quickly caught his stride again. The crowd shouted as the horses came down head and head. Some of the spectators yelled that Alves had it, others shouted Harum. Nearing the half mile post, Trainer Isaac Flemming, who drove Alves, shook him up and he drew away from the Buifalo horse, winning by about half a length. H. H. James, Col. Taylor's trainer, drove David Harum.

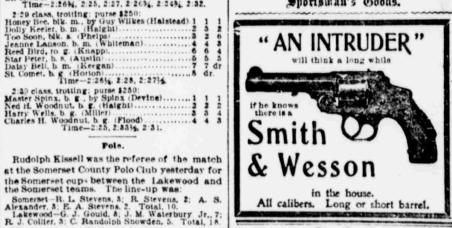

At the finish of the last heat in her excitement a woman fell out of her buggy which was moving slowly along close to the curb. Her horse ran away and started another by running into it. Both were caught by a mounted policeman without any more damage than a broken shaft.

Wins. Boston, Sept. 28.-The match race beween the 25-foot yachts Early Dawn and Little Peter to-day was won by the former on account of the failure of the Little Peter to reach the starting line at the time agreed upon for the second race. She lost her rudder on the way from Boston and consequently could not have raced had she arrived at the line when the starting gun was fired. As no agreement had been made between J. E. Doherty and J. J. Moes, owners, to postpone the event in case either was disabled before the start of any race, the judges unanimously agreed to send the Farly Dawn over the triangular course. Mr. Doherty's boat sailed with two reefs in her mainsail and covered the ten miles in 1:55:41. Little Peter to-day was won by the former of Wales, first. Strause & Hexter's ch. g. Chesterfield, second; Dr. J. L. Wentz's br. g. Foxmet, third.

As some of the horses were crossing the trotting track into the horse show ring, George McBride drove the pacing mare Elsee E. up the stretch to score down for the first heat in the unfinished 2.24 pace. Near the draw gates he pulled up to avoid running into one of the crossing teams. The mare reared straight up and fell back on him, severely injuring his back and otherwise bruising him. He was unable to drive the race out and C. McBride was substituted. Helen D. easily won the necessary two heats to give her the race. The 2.29 trot was captured in straight heats by the Guy Wilkes mare Honey Hee, although there was a close and driving finish in each heat. Knowing ones picke. Too Soon, a good-looking black stallion by Direct, as the winner, and Honey Bee's performance was quite a surprise. Ma-ter Spinx had no difficulty in disposing of his field in the 2.30 trot in straight heats.
